FULL DAY'S PROGRAM IS SET FOR VETERANS' HOMECOMING

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 1 — A full day's program, leading off with a tremendous parade at 10 a.m., is set for the 44th annual Veterans' Homecoming celebration in Porterville, November 12.

The parade will form in the area of North street and Main, and move out from Morton street through the downtown business district. Colorful floats, marching units, bands, mounted groups, horsedrawn vehicles, horseless carriages will all be worked into the parade theme — "Patriotic Memories."

Riding as grand marshals will be Harry Pohlman, representing American Legion Post 20, and Hugh Patterson, representing Mt. Whitney Post 2001, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Co-chairmen of the parade are Ralph Vopat and John Garay. They urge individuals and organizations to get their parade entries in without delay, stating that early entries will get preference on position. All floats are to be in position, ready for judging, at 8:30 a.m. on November 12 they state.

Other activities of the day include the traditional Pioneer Reunion and Tea, immediately following the parade, at the Porterville high school cafeteria, with Porterville units of the Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West in charge.

Jackpot roping is slated for the Rocky Hill arena, starting at 1

MOMENT OF SILENCE

At 11 a.m., during the Homecoming parade, all movement will be stopped at sound of the city siren, and a moment of silent memory observed for men and women who gave their lives for their country. This will be followed by the playing of Reginold DeKoven Recessional by Mrs. Ray Neufeld on the Congregational Church carillon.

SPRINGVILLE WINNERS

Hi-point trophy winners in the Springville Lions club junior horse show and gymkhana, Sunday were: Jane Griswold, 8-13 year age group, and Susan Shelton, 14-18 year group.

BLOW WIND, BLOW

Our friends tell us that The Farm Tribune has been served with some sort of notice or summons concerning libel in connection with something or other that we printed some time in the past. We are told that press releases have even gone out covering our sins. And we are told that the morning wind has been blowing quite regularly.

But as we go to press we have been served with nothing from anyone, so apparently everyone knows more about what's in the wind than we do.

Somehow we are reminded that at about this time two years ago, during the 1960 campaign, the

CAMPAIGNS IN FINAL BLAST

Auction To Raise Money For Fireworks

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 1 — Porterville Exchange club will hold its annual auction Saturday morning at 879 West Olive to raise money to finance the club's free patriotic program and fireworks exhibition staged on July Fourth in Jamison stadium.

Money is raised in two ways — through returns from the auction, and through donation of items to be auctioned. People of the community who enjoy the Fourth of July fireworks — and the crowds have been estimated at up to 15,000 — are invited to donate any type of item they may have around the house, or to come to the auction and do a little buying.

Handling the gavel will be Auctioneer Ray Holloway; heading

PEARSON PUMP EXPANDS TO GREENFIELD

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 1 — Expansion of Pearson Pump company into the Kern county community of Greenfield was announced this week by Dudley Pearson, owner.

Pearson has purchased assets and inventory, including a 5,000 square foot building, of the Western Pump and Irrigation company at Greenfield, and will operate the business as the Greenfield unit of Pearson Pump.

Manager of the new business will be Wayne Teague; pump sales and service, also well drilling, will be offered.

Major machine work developed in Kern county will be done at the modern Porterville plant of Pearson Pump.

ELECTION DAY NEXT TUESDAY

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 1 — Final blasts of the 1962 general election campaign are echoing through Porterville, as well as the county and state, as candidates throw their final punches, and proponents and opponents of the 25 ballot issues grind out publicity releases.

It will all be decided next Tuesday, November 6, between the hours of 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., when voters go to the polls to make their choice.

In Tulare county, County Clerk Claude Grant is estimating a 75 per cent vote, with more than 1,000 absentee ballots out. In the county are 62,609 registered voters, broken into 24,446 Republicans and 38,163 Democrats.

Generating the most steam have been the governor's race between Incumbent Edmond G. Brown and Richard M. Nixon, former vice president of the United States, and the non-partisan race for superintendent of public instruction.

LIVESTOCK ENTRIES FOR GREAT WESTERN

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 1 — Five young people of the Porterville area have entered livestock in the 37th annual Great Western Exposition and livestock show in Los Angeles, November 14-20.

Jane, Bobby and William Bennett, Vandalia 4-H club, have entered steers, beef breeding animals, and hogs; Vic Child, also a member of the Vandalia club, has entered six Southdown ewes, a Southdown ram, two market lambs, a steer and three market hogs; Dean Neufeld, Porterville Future Farmer, has entered three fat lambs in the heavyweight class.

Editorial Comment

AMENDMENTS ARE IMPORTANT

When a ballot has 25 amendments, as does the November 6 ballot that you will vote Tuesday, it becomes quite a chore to intelligently vote on each amendment.

We have formed a few opinions ourselves, not necessarily agreeing with your opinions, but here are ours, for better or worse:

No. 1-A — Yes; No. 1 — No; No. 2 — No; No. 3 — Yes; No. 4 — No; No. 5 — No; No. 6 — Yes; No. 7 — Yes; No. 8 — Yes; No. 9 — Yes; No. 10 — No; No. 11 — Yes; No. 12 — No; No. 13 — No; No. 14 — Yes; No. 15 — No; No. 16 — Yes; No. 17 — Yes; No. 18 — Yes; No. 19 — Yes; No. 20 — Yes; No. 21 — No; No. 22 — Yes; No. 23 — No; No. 24 — No.

On the special Tulare County measure that would provide Civil Service for county employees, No. This measure essentially provides a haven for the incompetent, while the claimed improvements in personnel management and classification can all be accomplished by the board of supervisors, if desired, without the passage of this measure.

These, of course, are all non-partisan measures; as for the only non-partisan candidate on the ballot — the superintendent of public instruction, our vote will go for Max Rafferty.

So there you have it. We hope you do not take our word for it, we hope you read the pro and con arguments included with your sample ballot; seek to inform yourself on the issues involved, then vote as you see fit.

National Scene

Washington, Oct. 24 — Washington observers with some understanding of business regard the election on November 6 with increasing concern.

A shift to the left in the selection of 39 new Senators and 435 members of the House of Representatives would pose new problems and obstacles for business expansion. The concern is heightened by the international situation.

Congress for years has been the scene of battles between those who believe in the private enterprise system—and understand how it works—and those who either oppose it or do not understand how it functions.

With Congress closely divided, a gain of 20 to 30 members who enter with a determination to expound the private enterprise principle would have a broad impact on both legislative and executive decisions.

A study of controversies in the recent session of Congress reveals a close division on many issues. Party lines have been crossed frequently.

Strange as it may seem, militant groups in both Senate and House sought to emulate socialist Russia by placing the United States in the international communications satellite business, rather than to entrust the business to private industry.

The headlong rush in the last days of Congress to authorize projects costing billions was described by one member as the greatest drive in years for expansion of government in the electric power business.

There were campaigns, some successful, to expand government bureaucratic authority into the field of private business; to grant extraordinary regulatory powers; to enact punitive taxes and to virtually deny profits to those doing business with the government.

The election will find the nation in an uncertain international situation. Congress, regardless of party, unquestionably will support the President in defense of the country.

But it is almost certain that anti-business and left wing groups will seize upon the situation to seek legislative or

COLD AIR — LITTLE ROCK — WHITE HOUSE

HIGH IN THE THIN COLD AIR, by Sir Edmund Hillary and Desmond Doig, is the story of the Himalayan expedition, 1960-1961, led by Sir Edmund Hillary, and sponsored by World Book Encyclopedia. It had two aims: to gather high-altitude scientific data, and to establish or disprove the existence of Yetis — Abominable Snowmen. Hillary and Doig throw cold water on the Yeti legend, after much painstaking investigation. Almost incidentally some of the party attempted to climb Mt. Makalu — a 27,790 foot ascent. The book is suspenseful and fascinating reading for the armchair mountaineer.

A book that will have a ringing impact here and abroad, is: THE LONG SHADOW OF LITTLE ROCK: A MEMOIR, by Daisy Bates. It is a report on the Little Rock battle waged by segregationists against the nine Negro high school students, and anyone who sympathized with their cause. Mrs. Bates indicts Governor Oral E. A. Faubus for setting off the mass hysteria, tells how her own home was besieged, and how all, Negro or white, who favored school integration were made to suffer physically, psychologically, or economically. Furthermore, she reveals why her background and her childhood impelled her into the fight for Negro justice: her mother had been raped and murdered by white men. A forceful cogent book.

A TOUR OF THE WHITE HOUSE WITH MRS. JOHN F. KENNEDY, by Perry Wolff, is transferred here from the television tour, into an extremely handsome book. It has a great amount of fascinating information, much of which — the chapter on the first ladies, for example — was not in the TV broadcast. Extensive, interesting comments by the author, who was the producer of the TV program, are woven through the text of the TV show, which consisted of Mrs. Kennedy's informal answers to Charles Collingwood's questions about the house and its history. There are 158 illustrations in black and white, eight in color, and floor plans of the White House.

These books are available from the shelves of the Porterville City Library.

- ★ An Administration dedicated to attracting new industry
- ★ That California will lead the Nation in job opportunities for all our citizens

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

THERE IS always a choice to be made between candidates at election time. In making this choice, it is highly important to think in terms of trends that can be expected if certain candidates are elected.

CONSIDERING THE choice, and considering future trends, we can only extend our vote and our support to Richard Nixon for governor of California.

WHY? WELL let's look at the

Dick Nixon Pledges To Farmers

- ★ To Appoint The Best Qualified Man To Head The State Department of Agriculture.
- ★ To Fight For California's Share Of World Markets.
- ★ To Fire William Warne as Director of the State Water Program.
- ★ To Balance Commodity Representation on the Board of Agriculture — Including Cotton and Beef, not now represented.
- ★ To Fight For California Representation on the U.S. Tariff Commission.
- ★ To Support Farmers In Their Fight For Supplemental Labor.
- ★ To Oppose A State Minimum Wage For Farm Workers, But To Favor A National Minimum Wage.
- ★ To Assure Water That Farmers Can Afford.

trend established by four years of the Brown administration. State population has gone up 15.5 per cent, but the state budget has jumped 52.6 per cent. State employees have increased 26.4 per cent in number, but 47 per cent in salary. Personal income tax has jumped 106 per cent. Indicated cost to carry the present administration program over another four years means a minimum tax increase totalling $1.35 billion. The Brown administration, in fiscal 1962, spent $4.222, the greatest amount spent by any state in the Union. Last year, California taxes in one form or another ran $4,156 billion, amounting to a deficit of $66 million. A "balanced" budget was attained only by borrowing through the medium of state bond issues.

THIS IS the trend of the Brown administration — bigger bureaus, bigger budgets, more taxes, more government further from home. Another four years of this administration means continued and accelerated trend along these same lines.

MR. NIXON pledges to cut state spending through more efficient administration. His record as a California congressman, a United States Senator from California, and as vice president of the United States, proves his sense of fiscal responsibility. And certainly his record is one of steadfast purpose and proven statesmanship.

SO WITH Mr. Nixon as governor, we can expect a reverse trend in state government to that of the present administration. This is what we badly need in California.

PROBABLY THE man who knows Dick Nixon best regarding his ability in government, is Dwight D. Eisenhower. This is what Ike thinks of Mr. Nixon:

"Everything he has done has increased my respect for him. I can personally vouch for his ability, his sense of duty, his sharpness of mind and his wealth of wisdom."

ADD TO this the fact that Mr. Nixon has been one of the nation's most dedicated communist fighters since the days he was campaigning for Congress, and you cannot doubt that he means it when he pledges as governor to initiate the most effective state program in the nation for fighting communism.

PERHAPS IT all sums up to statesmanship and leadership ability. These attributes Mr. Nixon has, by the record.

NOW, IF you agree that a change of trend is needed in state administration, then it is logical not only to elect Mr. Nixon governor of California, but to give him the best possible team to work with.

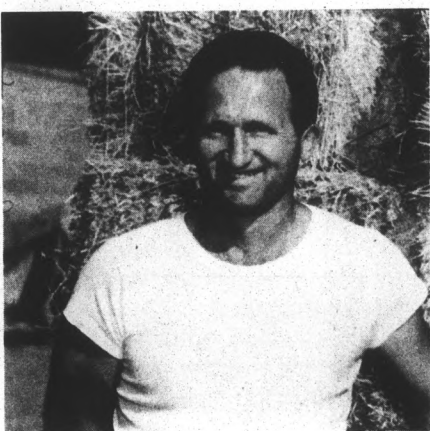

AT OUR "local" level, this means your vote for Howard Way for state senate and Gil Swift for state assembly. Compare them with their opponents on a basis of ability, integrity, leadership qualities, and good common sense, and, well, there just isn't any comparison.

AND AS a final word, which should come as no surprise to anyone who reads this column, it's past time that we unloaded our congressman by press release — you know who — and put a big man in that big job — Ray Arnett.

While not "experts" who pretend to know all the answers, these men do have a practical, down-to-earth knowledge of local conditions, and can give you full information about new alfalfa and pasture seed from Northrup King.

ALFALFA: When it comes to aphid-resistant alfalfa, there are two good ones for this area, Moapa and 819 Brand. Both are aphid resistant, both give good yields, and both produce fine quality hay.

Yet only 819 Brand is completely processed for best performance. It's Noculized seed. It's Wes-Gro Processed. And, its purity of 99.9% and germination of 92% are standards that are consistently higher than prevail for Certified Moapa.

You get these additional benefits only in 819 Brand alfalfa — and at no additional cost to you.

PASTURE: Before you plant your next pasture, ask about the new Tetraploid Ryegrasses in NK Pasture Mixtures. A tetraploid ryegrass carries twice as many heredity-controlling factors as ordinary ryegrass, gives you up to 30% more yield, longer grazing season, wider leaves, darker green color, quicker recovery, and more resistance to diseases and drought.

You will discover also that tetraploid ryegrasses are very palatable and grow well with the other pasture-type grasses and clovers found in all NK Pasture Mixtures.

In these days of modern farming, it's important to remember the success of your whole business starts with a tiny seed. You can't get any more out of a crop than the seeds man bred into it.

That's why it will pay you to check with these men from Farmers Feed. They can give you full information about Northrup King seeds and their performance in the Porterville area. Take advantage of their service to Get more from Every Acre . . . Through Creative Seed Research.

Industrial And Business Development Council Plans Program November 19

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 1 — Tulare County Industrial and Business Development Council Chairman, J. E. Wheeler of Porterville, announces that a program has been planned for November 19 in the Tulare Veterans' Memorial building for the purpose of recognizing the manufacturing industry in Tulare county.

Letters have been mailed to many manufacturing industries, both large and small, throughout the county asking them to participate in the day's activities, which will include the displaying of many of the products locally manufactured. These displays will be open to the public from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The arrangements committee, Rufus Branum of Dinuba, Willard

Glass of Tulare, Norman Polly of Porterville, and Harry Ginner of Visalia, have also planned a dinner at 7:30 with entertainment to follow.

The County Industrial and Business Development council, cooperating with local chamber of commerce, civic officials, news media and others, feels that this day will afford an excellent opportunity for everyone to become better acquainted with those engaged in the manufacturing industry.

Tickets for the dinner are $3.50 per person and reservations may

Rabies Quarantine Placed On Skunks

VISALIA, Nov. 1 — Due to the presence of rabies in skunks in California and in many other states and the resultant hazard to the public health of rabies developing in skunks kept as pets, the Tulare County Health officer has issued an Order of Quarantine Against Skunks, to become effective in Tulare county November 1.

be made by notifying the County chamber office prior to Wednesday, November 14th.

The new regulation as set by the California State Board of Public Health will remain in effect until the Health officer is further advised by the State board. The public is advised, for their own protection, not to trap or capture skunks for pets; trap or hold skunks for sale, barter, exchange or gift; transport skunks (pet or wild) into or out of Tulare county.

CHAPEL CHIMES

By
Rev. N. J. Thompson

The Kuni Indians of Panama employ some strange and amusing methods for doctoring themselves. If a tribesman receives a head injury, for instance, his head must be rubbed with the skull of some animal. The tribal doctor's medicine basket holds a weird assortment of bones, teeth, claws, and light bulbs. The bulbs must be good for weak eyes, the Indians reason, because they can shine so brightly.

Medically, these customs are worthless; yet it is a commonly accepted fact that the efficacy of medicine often depends on the patient's faith. Faith has brought healing to many sick bodies.

A wise man once wrote, "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith."

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, noted radio minister and writer, tells of a French-Canadian lad who wore a leg brace. The lad brooded over being crippled. His father promised to take him to the

tion between Max Rafferty and Ralph Richardson.

On the "local" level, Congressman Harlan Hagen is being hammered by Challenger Ray Arnett, in a free-swinging contest.

The race for state senator from Tulare county, with Howard Way and J. Jim Stein contesting for the seat left vacant by the death of State Senator J. Howard Williams, has been quiet from the beginning, with neither candidate making issues or creating fireworks.

The same has been true in the State Assembly race between Incumbent Myron Frew and his challenger, Gil Swift, although Swift is increasing his pressure on Frew now.

Although there is considerable activity at the state level in the race for United States Senator between Incumbent Thomas H.
Kuchel and State Senator Richard Richards, the campaign in Tulare county has not generated much local steam.

In other state constitutional offices, Incumbent Glenn Anderson is being strongly challenged by San Francisco Mayor George Christopher for Lt. Governor; Incumbent Frank M. Jordan, secretary of state, should not have much trouble with Don Rose; Incumbent Alan Cranston has a strong campaign going against his opponent, Bruce V. Reagan for state controller.

The campaign for state treasurer is livening up considerably with Incumbent Bert A. Betts threatening libel and slander suits

On page three hundred and seventy two of our guide to the happy gardener, it says November is a time for many things.
These things include the planting of bulbs for spring bloom such as grape hyacinth, daffodil, scilla, sparaxis, freesia, and tulip. All of which we have in good supply and would like to either sell or trade for a twenty pound turkey.

It is likewise time to pick out trees with fall color before the fall color falls off. We have mentioned this from time to time but bring it up again because they are so pretty. We would especially like to mention the Pistachio trees which are so brightly colored that it's only safe to look directly at them on a foggy day.

Less interesting is the spraying of things to kill overwintering insects and spores that cause plant diseases. A combination of Malathion and Orthorix will eliminate most of these with a minimum of effort.
Trees and shrubs which are about to blow over should be staked and tied securely or your other efforts will be wasted.

The only thing it doesn't mention is how to work in Thanksgiving, Homecoming, and one last deer hunt before November runs out. You'll find us in the same predicament on

PIRATES FADE AGAINST REEDLEY; PANTHER TEST FRIDAY NIGHT

Porterville College's football championship hopes were dealt a crippling blow Saturday night as the big tough Reedley College Tigers came back hard in the second half to smash the Pirates 29-8.

For a half it looked like the Pirates might pull it off. They were trailing 7-0 in the second quarter when they staged their only offensive show of the evening. Led by Little Paul Floyd, the Pirates drove 71 yards in 13 plays. John Porter pounded over right tackle for the touchdown, and Kelton Dotson took a reverse around right end to go in standing-up and untouched to give the Pirates an 8-7 lead.

At this point the picture was pretty bright for the Pirates. Their defensive strength had appeared in stalling the Tigers once inside their own 20 yard line, and they were containing the swirling dashes of tiny Eddie Miyamoto, the Tigers' sensational little half-back. Then the situation soured with just five minutes gone in the third quarter. Othel Pearson was hit while trying to pitch-out on a right end sweep and the high lob was picked off by a charging Tiger lineman who dashed into the Pirate end zone untouched. Reedley was then successful on a two point conversion try, and the game could have ended right there.

The spark glowed dimly after this and then finally went out late in the fourth quarter as the Tigers added two touchdowns. The Pirate offense contributed nothing during the second half, as their passing efforts met with five interceptions, and as they gave the ball away on a fumble once. The Pirate defense, rock-ribbed until this point, lost its consistency and was alternately soft and tough during the remaining time.

The loss gives the Pirates a record of 5-2 over the season and 3-1 in league play. They still are in the running for the league championship as Reedley still has three league games to go before

PORTERVILLE COLLEGE COOPERATES IN 44th ANNUAL HOMECOMING EVENT

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 1 — Students and faculty members at the Porterville College cooperate in the school's participation in the community's traditional Veterans' Day Homecoming celebration, to be held this year on Monday, November 12.

Francie Tomicich, a student, and Arthur Van Horn, dean of student activities, act as general chairmen for the committee which has charge of providing candidates for homecoming queen, arranging for the appearance of the queen and her court before and during the celebration, and in preparing the float on which the queen rides during the gigantic homecoming parade.

Beverly Hoisington acted as student chairman for queen selection and coronation, and Carol White is in charge of arranging and preparing for appearances of the queen and her court before and during the celebration. Marie Ellis is faculty chairman for the queen committee.

Nancy Korn is faculty chairman of the committee for design and decoration of the queen's float. Student chairmen are Liz Etzold, design, and Mary Scott, decoration. William Davies is faculty chairman for float construction, with Charles Schmetgen as student chairman for construction and clean-up, and Gordon Todd in charge of float operation.

Ann Hutchinson and Anne Sutherland are student chairmen for finance and publicity, with Edward Buckles and Lee Clearman as faculty assistants.

Van Horn said that several college campus organizations are planning entries in the parade. A football game between Porterville College and the University of California at Santa Barbara junior

The PUHS Panthers copped their second Central Yosemite League win of the year Friday night as they stopped the tough Delano Tigers on the Tigers' home turf.

The Panther offense, led by hard-running sophomore Larry Brown, is improving with each game and will face probably its biggest test in league play Friday night as the Mt. Whitney Pioneers invade Jamison stadium. The Pioneers flexed their muscles last Friday night by smashing a good Hanford team. We watched that game on television and thought the Pioneers looked like a well-coached aggressive team. If the Panthers get by this one they should breeze into the league championship.

WE THE PEOPLE

The comments in this column are not necessarily the views of the editors and publishers of The Farm Tribune.

Dear Bill:

In regard to your "We Only Heard" column in the October 25 Farm Tribune I would like to point out the following:

hatred, unbelief, fear? Perhaps what you need is not tranquilizer pills but faith. Faith can mean the difference between a defeated life and a victorious life. It can sweep away your doubts and fears, and lift you into a God-centered life.

Faith does many things for many people. Perhaps the Kuni Indians know that, and have learned to put their faith to work. How about you?

I believe that none of the arguments against Proposition 4, in the amendment booklet, stand up under close scrutiny. The bill will allow the farmer to stay on productive land where he will be able to pay his part of the tax burden. The current trend is to move the farms to more marginal land. Such land is adequate for urban or industrial use but will eventually fail the test of economic feasibility for agricultural production.

Agricultural economists of the University of California state that the Nation will be short of "productive" agricultural land before the turn of the century. Any land that is clear can be called farm land. Less than 20% of such land in this country can produce economically and urban areas have already eliminated a large portion of that.

The farmers of this state are not asking for special treatment. They are asking to stay in business. I urge a yes vote on Proposition Number 4.

Sincerely yours,
ALLEN A. SANBORN

Sometimes a family
inherits a whole farm...

but ends up with only a small part

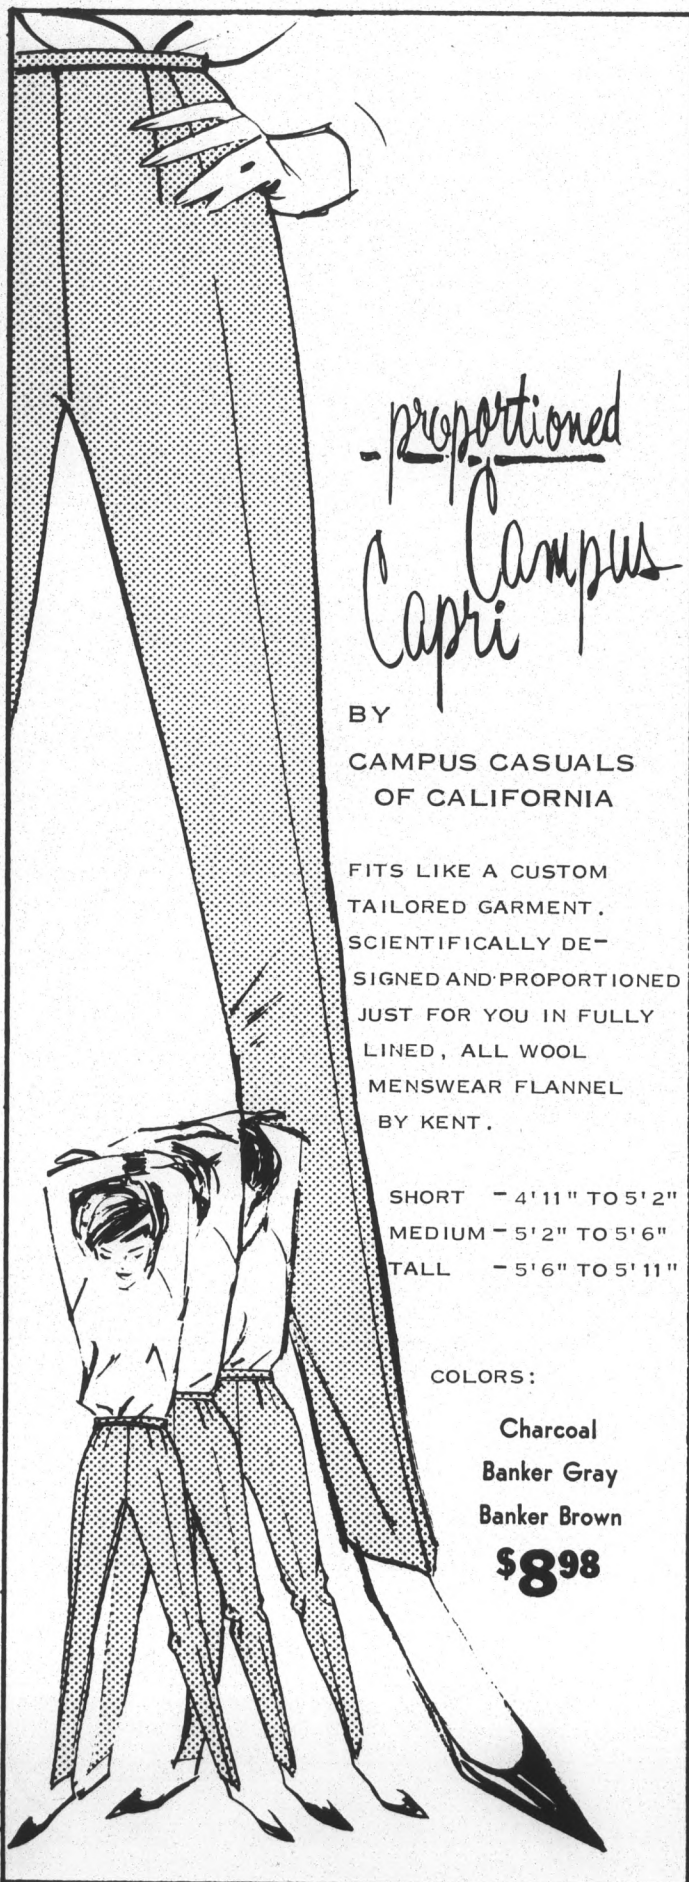

Perhaps you've seen it happen in your own community. A farmer dies. Cash on hand is not sufficient for the family to meet estate settlement costs and other bills. The heirs may be forced to sell part or even all of the farm, quickly and very likely at far less than its full value. The result: the family is left with less than its rightful inheritance.

With an estate conservation plan based on Whole Life Insurance from New York Life, you can help protect your family from such a calamity. In addition, this policy builds cash values to serve you in an emergency or pay you income at retirement.

Our Town

By GARDNER WHEELER

POLITICAL CAMPAIGNS TO END WITH VOTING NEXT TUESDAY

BY THIS TIME NEXT week the atmospheric disturbances that have blown hot and cold 'round and about our town and state will have blown themselves out. The 1962 political campaigns will have collapsed from inertia and elections. And not a moment too soon.

THE GUSTY PROSE OF campaign oratory may be exhausting to the campaigners, but it is also befuddling to Mr. Average Voter, and if he believes only half he hears, he would be a candidate for the padded cell. The cross winds of claims and counterclaims are brisk indeed, and are generally unsullied by too much truth.

CANDIDATES THESE DAYS are not so concerned with facts but in creating images. The present incumbent in the Governor's seat has been busy creating an image that is a cross between Horace Mann, Paul Bunyan and a modern Hercules. If we can believe some of the commercials, he virtually built the public school system of the State. Occasionally he would take time out to build a water system and divert a river or two in the direction of parched constituents. Between times he was improving the general living conditions by handouts of largesse while carefully hoarding the tax payers' money. These claims actually would make Hercules turn pale, and needless to say, it turns a great many citizens green; not from envy, but possibly from biliousness.

HIS OPPONENT HAS A problem in that he is an out instead of an in. He obviously does not have several hundred appointees kicking about the counties who are feverishly working to maintain the status quo. Still, he is a person of undoubted sincerity, who in face to face encounters with the public has not hesitated to speak his mind. He shows a positive stature that is welcome.

OF COURSE, THE CAMPAIGNING is not limited to the gubernatorial level. Seats for Congress and the State Assembly are up for grabs. There might even be an opening or two for dog catchers for which some of our candidates are undoubtedly qualified. Everyone is busily creating an image of superior intelligence and selfless altruism. All the voter has to do is separate the wheat from the chaff at next Tuesday's Election. Sometimes we seem to get more chaff than wheat in the process.

WE HAVE ALWAYS BEEN open-minded in our voting; following the precepts of my Uncle Charley, who stated thusly: "I always vote for the best man, not the party. It just happens that the best men are Republicans."

Canal Shut-Down Set For Nov. 15

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1 — Flow of water in the Friant-Kern canal will be stopped on November 15, with no further release into the canal until February of 1963, according to the bureau of reclamation.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Are mutual Funds — and the investment services they provide — of value only to the small investors of modest means? Far from it.

Purchases of fund shares by substantial investors with large accounts are increasing rapidly, indeed, even more rapidly than purchases by smaller investors.

This conclusion is based on a recent survey of purchasers by one of the larger mutual fund organizations. The study showed that:

From 1956 to 1961, total annual purchases of their fund shares rose 61% — from $101 million to $163 million.

"Volume purchases" (1,000 shares or more, generally about $15,000), on the other hand, rose 250% — from $11 million to $38.5 million.

In 1961, 24% of the total share purchases were represented by volume purchases — a record annual high. The 1962 figures, thus far, an even higher percentage.

Total volume purchases from 1956 to September 1962, exceeded $162,000,000.

Who are these big investors? They include both individuals and institutions, such as pension and profit-sharing funds, corporations, unions, universities, churches, banks, and hospitals.

It is generally acknowledged that people and institutions with substantial sums available for investment have the means to hire the best of counsel to manage their investments. In increasing numbers, however, they have turned to the professional management and broad diversification available through the leading mutual funds, and to the variety of special conveniences and services that mutual funds provide (such as plans for periodic investment, automatic dividend reinvestment, and systematic withdrawal).

By placing their trust in the mutual fund way to invest, these substantial investors have registered a significant vote of confidence . . . reason enough for you to investigate and invest in mutual funds.

other action to increase government in business, through actual competition with private enterprise or by controlling it.

Nearly every international crisis in recent years has brought powerful labor unions into conflict with the public. Not only have labor leaders demanded the right to strike defense plants, but have demanded extraordinary privileges in many ways.

There now is legislation pending in Congress — and members say it will be pushed next winter — to prohibit strikes in missile and other plants, this could create a major legislative battle.

Congress, by close votes, rejected the most extreme proposals for regimentation of agriculture. But already leaders of leftist groups are renewing the battle for government control of agriculture.

Tax legislation becomes of increasing importance. To this date, Administration leaders have said proposals would be made for a reduction in corporate and individual income taxes from top to bottom.

Only recently Secretary of the Treasury Dillon said: "The need for investment—and investment now—is apparent." There has been widespread recognition that extremely high individual and corporate tax rates have discouraged investment.

While the Administration has been talking generally of its tax reduction plan, a group of congressional liberals has been laying plans to sabotage this kind of tax reduction. Instead, they propose only reductions in the lowest income brackets on the ground that more purchasing power is needed.

Admittedly, the international situation—the extent of the defense build-up and operations—can change completely the Administration proposals with regard to taxes.

The recent Congress—known as the first $100 billion Congress—was accused by some of its own members of a flagrant disregard of the rules of fiscal solvency in the making of lavish and unnecessary appropriations.

The fiscal situation of the government is certain to be a matter of major concern to the nation. Again business observers say it is vital that the Congress be composed in majority of members who know how destructive irresponsibility in fiscal affairs can be to the nation.

COUNTY CHAMBER FAVORS NO. 4

VISALIA, Nov. 1 — Directors of the Tulare county chamber of commerce have voted to recommend passage of Proposition No. 4 on the November 6 ballot — the proposition that provides for special assessment of agricultural lands.

For Attorney General

Two men the record shows to be diametrically opposed in political philosophy are in the race for the office of attorney general of California.

One of these is the highly regarded Superior Judge Thomas Coakley of Mariposa County, the Republican nominee.

Judge Coakley has a fine legal background. He was, for three years, deputy attorney general of the state. During nine years as Superior Judge, he has served the cause of justice in 39 counties.

He has been president of the State Bar Association, a member of the Committee of Bar Examiners, has worked with the Judicial Council of California, and boasts a 16-year record as a successful lawyer in private practice.

Many attorneys in Los Angeles County know and respect him because of his appearance on the bench in civil and criminal courts here at various times.

Judge Coakley's opponent is the incumbent, Stanley Mosk, a Democrat.

The Herald-Examiner is supporting Judge Coakley for attorney general of California for many reasons, not the least of which is this: We believe he will be a more dynamic and efficient chief legal counsel representing the people of this state than Mr. Mosk has been.

He has, for instance, promised to spearhead a drive against the deadly danger of dope in this state. Judge Coakley would have the legislature impose stiffer penalties on those who trade in the illicit drug traffic to the detriment of our citizens, particularly our youth.

We applaud Judge Coakley's stand on capital punishment. He says without reservation that he is for the strongest measures when dealing with "such depraved criminals as Caryl Chessman, Ma Duncan and the like."

This newspaper does not agree that a public officeholder should mix politics with his job. Mr. Mosk, while attorney general, has also been a Democratic national committeeman from California.

He has, when called upon to do so by responsible citizens in his own party, refused to separate himself from the partisan political role.

Mr. Mosk opposes capital punishment and, in doing so, opposes most of the state's law enforcement officers and a majority of its citizens.

He has enjoyed a close relationship with the California Democratic Council and the American Civil Liberties Union, both of which stand for the abolishment of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and loyalty oaths.

The Herald-Examiner strongly urges the election of Judge Thomas Coakley as attorney general of California. We believe the reasons to be apparent.
